You're not looking for just a piece of wood furniture, countertop, moulding or flooring. You're looking for wooden elements overflowing with character and definition. Those elements not only become a piece in your house, but become part of the core which makes your house a home.

Woodworking is the art of presenting the Life that is already in a beautiful piece. With imagination and expertise, we listen to you, and turn your ideas into your delight.

Jeff Amos' legacy is solely carried on by his two sons, Obe & Logan, when you come to Amos Wood you will deal directly with one of them throughout the entire process.
